Work Summary

Technician was dispatched in response to a call stating that there was a leak underneath the sink. Technician reports the following: Upon arrival the customer had a leak in the kitchen sink, after doing some investigation I saw that the brass nut was not connected to the drain flange and the tailpiece that was exiting was not the correct length. So I swapped out the tailpiece for the correct length and replaced the brass nut as it was not properly securing down to the flange.

I've also replaced the ferrets as they looked rotted. After running water, I checked for leaks and didn't see anything dripping. All is working properly with no leaks detected.

This call is complete.
